contact@forexpipfishing.com.

I won't bore you with tedious talk of the Forex markets or anything like that. I'll start by going through a few details of Forex Pip Fishing™ you need to know.

Once I've gone through that we'll get into various rules (there's only three!) of Forex Pip Fishing™ and show you some trades. It's a really easy system.

I'm pretty excited to be writing this as I know you're going to find Forex Pip Fishing™ works well for you. Okay, I'm a realist, there might be one or two exceptions – but 99% of you will find this system just the tonic your Forex trading needs.

Forex Pip Fishing™ (Things To Know)

So you already know that Forex Pip Fishing™ is for intraday trading only.

There are a few timeframes we can choose to trade from. When starting out I recommend you trade either:

- Two or three currency pairs, and a couple of timeframes for each pair or

- Five or more pairs, but only watch one timeframe per pair

Simply, you don't want to be overloaded when learning a new system. You want to know the reason why this might happen? Well, here's a little secret:

When good opportunities arise in Forex... they usually all occur at the same time!

You've probably experience it before; you sit around waiting and waiting and waiting... eventually some activity occurs in the market, your system starts giving signals, but it's giving signals on nearly EVERY currency pair!

It's panic stations! You make mistakes, you win trades, you lose trades, you pat yourself on the back and you kick yourself for making mistakes too!
